

Evening Courses

Palm Beach Junior College announced a series of evening courses, some available for the first time during the Winter Term.

Machine Shortland, a subject never before taught at Palm Beach Junior College, will be offered during the Winter Term in an evening class, according to Robert L. Baiton, Jr., chairman of Department of business administration.

The course will carry three hours college credit, and will meet Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9:30 p.

Approval for certification has just been received from the State Department of Education for a course in Children's Literature, to be offered in an evening class in the Winter Term at Palm Beach Junior College.

Interest in the course has been high, according to Wiley Douglas, Director of Library Services, and more than 50 persons inquired about approval for certification prior to the time it was approved.

An approved course in children's literature is mandatory for teacher certification at certain grade levels.

The course has been scheduled for Wednesday evenings. It may be used for recency of credit, extension of certificate, and reissuance or re-instatement of certificate.

In addition to the course in Children's Literature, Library Services will offer a course in Non-Book Materials, which would be of interest to the general public as well as to those specializing in library work.

Instruction in vocal techniques and in the playing of stringed instruments will be given on a class basis in evening classes at Palm Beach Junior College next term, according to Miss Letha Mudge Royce, chairman of the Music Department.

"We have discovered that many people in the area would like to study voice or strings, but do not wish to pay the amount required for individual instruction," Miss Royce said.

In Class Voice and String Techniques we try to fill this gap," she said. "Classes are kept to 10 or 12, so that time for individual problems as well as general instruction is available to the teacher."

New evening students at PBJC may apply for admission at the time of registration, January 4 and 5, 7, to 9:30 p. m. Students already enrolled register January 3, 4 and 5.

Hospital's Christmas Celebrated Quietly

The traditional hospital smell is now replaced by a whiff of the fragrance of evergreen at Glades General Hospital.

In the lobby stands the Christmas tree, decorated by the hospital's auxiliary and on the building stands another tree, hoisted to the top beam by the hospital maintenance crew.

In all the departments the staff has seen to the decorating. The Ladies Auxiliary gift shop in the hospital lobby is well stocked for Christmas.

The patients Christmas Day will include the Christmas turkey dinner complete with fruit cake and homemade rolls.

The patients will be given favors by the New Baptist Church and caroling on the hospital grounds is planned by several groups.

The hospital chose the Christmas season to host the Ladies Auxiliary in appreciation for their year long efforts last week. Thursday the hospital staff will attend their annual Christmas buffet. Other staff activities include the exchanging of gifts and holiday parties.

"We have had several inquiries recently," stated Ben Clarke Glades General Hospital Administrator, "regarding the seemingly over-crowded conditions of the hospital and it has been difficult to justify to the community the fact that the second and third floors have remained closed when it appeared as if second floor should have been opened on several different occasions as the patient load increased."

Christmas Program Of Music Well Received At Gove School

Four accomplished musicians from St. Martin's Episcopal Church of Pompano entertained parents and teachers at the Gove Elementary School PTA meeting on Monday night.

The artists were: Mrs. Mary Jane Buchmann, soprano; Mrs. Jeanne Denzer, mezzo soprano; Mr. John E. Hedkrote, Jr., piano accompanist; and Mr. Harry G. Peterson, tenor, who is also music director at the local school. Selections from The Messiah and Christmas Carols were sung in solo and choral presentation. All of the selections were beautifully rendered, and well received by the audience.

The latter group became a part of the program when they were invited to join in the singing of Carols. Setting the background for this program was the devotional given by the Rev. Madison W. Sindle of the Church of God, who centered his talk around the Second Chapter of Luke, the birth story of Christ.

During the business session with Pres. W. L. Cunningham, Jr. presiding, plans were made to curtain windows in seventeen classrooms of the school, due to the need to counteract the play of light caused by the use of the fronted windows and consequent diffusion.

Mrs. Charles Eason's third grade room was the winner once again of the room attendance award, having thirty percent of the parents of her students present.

Hostesses Mrs. Brines Strong, Mrs. Paul Bowen, and Mrs. T. W. Casselman served home made Christmas cookies, nuts, mints, spiced tea and coffee to the attending group.

Over 200 persons honored United States Congressman Paul Rogers at a dinner sponsored by the Florida Sugar Cane League at the Clewiston Inn Tuesday night.

Harry T. Vaughn president of the league, praised Rogers for his conservative congressional record and for his immeasurable help in sugar legislation over the years. Vaughn president, U. S. Sugar Corp., Clewiston said "Without Rogers help with last year's sugar legislation, I doubt there could have been a party tonight, we were in a desperate situation."

Rogers returned the compliment, saying Florida's sugar cane growers have shown they have the experience, know-how, and capacity to produce increasing amounts of this country's sugar needs. When the next five year sugar quota legislation is being considered by the congress, Rogers said, "we should be in a position to increase the quota for growing sugar in Florida."

Rogers noted the uniqueness in industry cooperation shown in Florida sugar growers organizing themselves into the Florida Sugar Cane League.

Developing plans of production so we can produce more sugar in Florida should be our goal," Rogers said.

Rogers began serving his seventh term as Congressman from the 9th district in January.

George H. Salley, first vice-president of the League presented Rogers with a plaque from the Florida Sugar Cane League in appreciation for his efforts in behalf of the Florida sugar industry. Salley, reminding, recalled one example of Rogers help in sugar legislation when in 1955 he assured a united front by the Florida delegation by a phone call to a wavering legislator.

Accompanying Rogers was his wife, Becky and his brother, Doyle Rogers. Introducing guests was George Wedgworth, second vice president of the league. Acting as Master of Ceremonies for the occasion was Bob Lee, personnel manager at the Glades Sugar House.

The dinner was attended by Glades area persons closely connected with the sugar industry.

of about 15 to open just one of the floors on a 24 hour basis and this is not economically feasible when the floor might have twenty patients one day and only six the next.

There is a tremendous shortage of nurses all over the country and hospitals are competing for them at a pace unprecedented in the history of the health field and we simply have not been getting the applications that we have in the past. It was not unusual to receive 15 to 20 applications per month from nurses who wanted to come South for the winter, but apparently this has changed.

With the vast hospital building and expansion programs being carried out all over the country," Clarke concluded, "the situation is going to get worse and we ask the public to bear with us until efficient adaptation of personnel can be effected to compensate for the shortage."

Meditaciones Cristianas.

Por el Rev. Cesar M. Benitez

La Biblia nos enseña que las personas son mas importantes que las cosas. En otras palabras "un hombre de mas valor que una oveja." Nuestro Senor Jesucristo dijo aquel hombre que habia enanchado sus alimenes y que teniendo sus graneros llenos dijo "almata, huelgate, recreate". "Necio esta noche vengo a buscar tu alma y lo que has guardado en esta tierra de que te servira? "Hacedes tesoros en los cielos donde la polilla y el orin no corrompen."

El Sermón del Monte es la carta magna del cristianismo. Si solo los hombres de todo el mundo se inspiraran de todo corazón y obra en dicho mensaje el Senor vivieramos como hermanos sin guerras y odios, como en un jardín del Eden, donde todo seria paz y bienaventuranza.

Lo que grandes hombres han dicho de la Biblia: San Juan Crisostomo: "Aunque no entendais los secretos de la Escritura, con todo, la simple lectura de ella causa en nosotros una cierta santidad: porque no puede ser que dejéis de entender algo de lo que leéis." Gabriela Mistral: "La Biblia es para mí El Libro. No veo como alguien puede vivir sin ella." Isaac Newton: "Hay mas senales de autenticidad en La Biblia que en la historia profana."

George Washington: "Es imposible gobernar rectamente al mundo sin Dios y la Biblia."

En La Biblia un libro de coraje y fuerza, de sanidad y perdón. En su mensaje de Dios para el hombre encontramos seguridad de vida eterna.

Su mensaje principal: Cristo vino al mundo. Por fe puede nacer y vivir en tu corazón.

God With Us

"And they shall call his name Emmanuel." — Isaiah 7:14

Emmanuel, being interpreted, means "God with us." On that momentous occasion in Bethlehem, the shepherds and the wise men came to the stable to see the fulfillment of prophecy.

Through the life of Jesus upon earth, mankind is forever reminded that God is indeed with us at all times. Not only at Christmas, but during each waking day of our lives, we should never allow ourselves to forget that God is with us always.

The Buzzards Are Here

As activity in the Glades approaches the peak season, the area is again plagued with swarms of peddlers, drawn like buzzards swooping in for the feed.

Much like vulturous creatures, contribution of these peddlers to society, generally, is negligible. A rundown of facts fails to reveal one positive contribution which the peddler makes to either his customer, to the community, or the area in which he operates. Yet, these fly-by-nights do continue to operate, largely uncontrolled and unhampered.

In order to obtain a peddler's license in Palm Beach County it is necessary only for an applicant to have in his possession a Florida State Sales Tax number, for which he pays $1.00, and a Merchants State Retail license, for which he paid $10.00. If he is not a citizen he must have a copy showing that he is a registered alien as required by the U. S. Emigration and Naturalization Service.

If he has these meager credentials the County Tax Collector can not refuse to sell him a license to operate in competition with local merchants, merchants who have established their integrity through years of operation and who must pay a high overhead to stay in business.

Most peddlers do not admit having a taxable inventory and they have no place of business on which they pay taxes. They buy only very low-grade merchandise which a respectable merchant would not permit on his shelves. The peddler uses public property for displaying his wares, frequently notorious for trickery in making sales and is a master of "short change" techniques.

Fundamental to the welfare of a community is the local merchant who maintains an inventory of stock to supply his customers for special occasion as well as in daily needs. These merchants fully of taxes which provide for police, fire and other protection to the community which he serves. These merchants are backers of every worthwhile community drive and projects for community welfare and betterment are accepted and supported as their way of life. If he sells an item which is not up to standard, he makes either an exchange or gives a refund.

Adequate rules and regulations passed by our city officials now keep these operators confined to areas outside the city limits — they duck out when it comes to competing operating costs with our merchants. Yet they continue to set up for their gouging deals at the entrance to sugar mills and farming operations — but still on public-owned properties, with dangerous traffic congestion resulting.

Something needs to be done before one or more serious traffic accidents make more mandatory appeal.

Auction Market For All

It wasn't so long ago that the words "Wall Street" were understood by the average person to mean the happy hunting ground where men of wealth congregated to control industry and business. The New York Stock Exchange was looked on as their special club.

Joe Pungle in Pumpkin Hollow didn't think of himself as a customer for the Exchange auction market as he was for the Square Deal auction lot in his hometown.

What a difference today. The management of the Exchange, for some years, has persistently encouraged the Joe's to become owners of shares in the industries of their choice. It has promoted this idea as real public ownership.

The Exchange is now the people's auction market, where the individual can buy or sell securities of his choice, in large or small quantities, in a matter of minutes. In the past generation some 20 million investors have become owners of U. S. industries.

The reason for this better understanding of Wall Street and the

New York Stock Exchange is found in a recent statement by Keith Funston, president of the Exchange, who said: "All customers, both individual and institutional, must have equal access to the market and access on equal terms. To give a big institutional customer a preferential break over Aunt Jane would offend the public interest."

Learn From Santa Claus

Again at Christmastime, the United States is at war and the thought of peace on earth, good will toward men seems as much of a dream as ever. But nevertheless, Christmas is a day of family gatherings and good cheer, a period when we seek to be helpful to the afflicted and less fortunate.

But above all, Christmas is a time for the children. It is a great mystery of life to them. Fortunate are those who can believe in Santa Claus for a few years. What a thrill it is for them to go to bed looking forward to the morning when they will find a stocking filled with presents and candy and a Christmas tree shining with light. Just the smell of such a Christmas morning is something that stays through life. Doubly fortunate is the child whose stocking hangs in front of a fireplace on Christmas morning.

The visit of the unseen Santa means more than just gifts. It causes even the children to share their blessings with others. Christmas dinner with family and friends is a never to be forgotten occasion for young and old alike. So as you enjoy it this year in your home, think of the countless millions over the world, who are not so blessed and resolve to do your best to make Santa Claus a reality for someone. In the meantime, if you gain humility from the good fortune that is yours, Santa Claus will not have called in vain.

When The Spirits Dies

Historians tell of a great Indian Chief who resided with his tribe in the Wallowa mountains in northeast Oregon. He was leader of the Nez Perce Indians and was known as Chief Joseph. As the white men moved into his beloved land, he resisted their encroachment with a skill and a stubbornness born of deep conviction. He gained him the admiration of friend and foe alike. He was finally placed on a reservation where he died in 1904.

Of late, there has been some question whether he actually died in 1904 or at some later date. To one historian, the question is irrelevant because Chief Joseph, "...and not permitted to return to Wallowa after the defeat of the Nez Perces by the U. S. Army ... he was just existing, his spirit had gone. The great man we tell of in history had died." In short, when Chief Joseph was deprived of his freedom, he no longer desired to live.

The artificial security of the reservation, where he was guaranteed three meals a day, was no substitute for freedom. Is there not a lesson in the story Chief Joseph for all of us? We place a high value on material security — so high that we are permitting ourselves to be enmeshed in an intricate web of restrictions, taxes and welfare programs that one day may make us all inmates of a vast reservation. Can our spirit accept incarceration any more than that of the Indian Chief, who could not live without freedom?

SENSING THE NEWS

By Thurman Sensing

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

Governor Romney — No Conservative

With the approach of a new session of Congress, the conservative-thinking people of America will be looking eagerly for individuals in public life who can demonstrate capacity for leadership. A real possibility exists that conservatism will be able to achieve a major breakthrough in 1968, but leadership is essential at the top level.

In some of his remarks on spending and economic matters, Gov. George Romney, Republican governor of Michigan, has indicated a respect for business principles. But Gov. Romney's fitness for higher elective office has been called into account recently because of the release of a letter written in reply to Mr. Goldwater after the 1964 presidential election.

In that self-serving letter, written in reply to Mr. Goldwater's question as to why Gov. Romney did not support him in 1964, Gov. Romney revealed a shocking bias against the Southern voters who chose to support the Arizona Senator in the last national election. Gov. Romney accused Sen. Goldwater of organizing his campaign in such a way as to appeal to white, rural Southern voters.

This is a very unfortunate and distressing accusation. The inference is that a presidential candidate should not favor this class of Americans. On the liberal politicians in both parties apparently are all right. Gov. Romney's book of appeals to the minority bloc vote in the cities of America, that the meaning of his words is that he does not approve of taking note of the political wants of people who reside in a flourishing part of the country and who, down through the years, have been dedicated to constitutional government.

It is very questionable, therefore, whether Gov. Romney could be considered favorably by conservatives. A President of the United States created the backlash. The cities of America have a grave problem of lawlessness — organized lawlessness — from which to contend. Gov. Romney's own state had more than a taste of it last summer. The public certainly will want to know where he stands on civil disobedience, not simply in terms of general statements but of specific action to restore law and order and to end radical agitation in American communities.

The threat of anarchy is far from ended simply because another long, hot summer is over. The University of California at Berkeley, for instance, again has been in the news with non-students triggering a student strike against lawful university self-governance. The threat of anarchy is far from ended simply because another long, hot summer is over.

How much time does he need to make up his mind about the state of the U. S. in opposing Red empire-building, then Gov. Romney should be able to understand. By failing to take a stand in support of the war effort, Gov. Romney has detached himself from his partisan conservatives who actively support victory over Communism.

The truth is that Gov. Romney's public record is sadly lacking. He has, to be sure, sniped at what is called "the white backlash," without revealing what he would do about the conditions of civil disobedience and anarchy which have created the backlash. The cities of America have a grave problem of lawlessness — organized lawlessness — from which to contend. Gov. Romney's own state had more than a taste of it last summer. The public certainly will want to know where he stands on civil disobedience, not simply in terms of general statements but of specific action to restore law and order and to end radical agitation in American communities.

Why did he come? Not just to be the Babe of Bethlehem, but to fulfill prophecy, to do the will of God, to be in reality "God with us."

He was an example for us. When he was cursed and mocked, He did not respond in kind. He went about doing good and was known as a friend of sinners.

MORE THAN EXAMPLE

But He was not just an example. The Bible tells us that

He was an example for us. When he was cursed and mocked, He did not respond in kind. He went about doing good and was known as a friend of sinners.

Construction permits totaling $66,744 were issued in Belle Glade during October. This total included two new home permits totaling over $22,000 and one business at $35,000.

From Vera Parks, North-Field, Mass.: I remember Christmas pleasure of life we remember as the "good days of life."

Sunday afternoons or lazy days were spent walking through the woods contemplating nature and lying on a hillside to trace artistic touches of animals and such in the low-hanging ferny white clouds. Here was a serenity and solitude that could well be a gift of renewed life and peace.

I have taken note through the years that the older folks get the more they look to the religious side of Christmas. The youngsters was thinking about dances and parties and gifts but the old folks was happy to set by the fire and give thanks to the Lord for their blessings.

That was the spirit amongst the folks Saturday night. Most of them was born before the turn of the century and they were young men thinking about dances and parties and gifts but the old folks was happy to set by the fire and give thanks to the Lord for their blessings.

That was the spirit amongst the folks Saturday night. Most of them was born before the turn of the century and they were young men thinking about dances and parties and gifts but the old folks was happy to set by the fire and give thanks to the Lord for their blessings.

By comparing everything, we got peace at home, was living in a house of freedom and plenty and got a heap to thank the Lord for this Christmas.

Editor, to you and yours, and to our subscribers, advertisers and friends.

Yours truly, Uncle Don

Why Did He Come?

By Lewis Llewellyn

The birth of Jesus has rightly been called "the hinge of history." Its epochal importance is attested by the fact that every event of history is dated with reference to its relationship to this most significant occurrence of all time.

Ancient happenings are dated as so many years before the birth of Christ. Present-day historical events are recorded as occurring 1966 years after the coming to live on this earth.

POOR, HUMBLE FAMILY

Yet, when He came, it was to the home of a humble family, poor by the standards of that time and lacking many of the conveniences which we now regard as necessities.

Born in a stable, He was laid in a manger — his birthplace being shared with four-footed friends.

Yet His coming was announced by angels.

He was worshipped by wise men who journeyed far from their homes to present their gifts to the One Who was born to be King.

He was hated by Herod, who feared that his throne was in danger.

He was generally unnoticed by the world.

How many today, like the innkeeper, are so dazzled by the evident importance of the wealthy and socially prominent that they shut out the Savior? "No room!"

Why did He come? Not just to be the Babe of Bethlehem, but to fulfill prophecy, to do the will of God, to be in reality "God with us."

He was an example for us. When he was cursed and mocked, He did not respond in kind. He went about doing good and was known as a friend of sinners.

MRS. LURIA

Rosita Granda y Francisco Luria contrajeron matrimonio el pasado sábado en la iglesia de St. Peter & Paul, de Miami. La novia es hija del Dr. Armando Granda, y la fallecida Atala Granda, siendo graduada del Colegio del Atlántico, en la Habana, Cuba.

El novio es hijo del Sr. Pedro Luria y Sra., quien estudia en la Universidad de Villanova, en la Habana, y lo han anunciado los nuevos esposos en Miami.

Los esposos Arturo Chaban Lita Montalvo, y Gaspar E. Contreras y Lily Bates, invitan al matrimonio de sus hijos Lilian y Gaspar, que se efectuará el viernes 30 de Diciembre en la Iglesia Little Flower, de Coral Gables.

En la pasada semana, a la reunión mensual del BPW (Mujeres del Mundo en Negocios), fue gentilmente invitada la Sra. Rita Tomez, para que hablara sobre las Pascuas Cubanas.

Después de un simpático saludo, y habiendo dado las gracias por haber sido honrada al ser escogida para hablar sobre la temporada Pascual en Cuba, y explicar nuestras costumbres, la Sra. Tomez habló sobre el significado de las Navidades en el mundo Cristiano celebrando el Nacimiento de Cristo.

Como motivo de las Pascuas, Dios como Dios Padre, nos hizo el don de su Hijo, en Christmas, siendo el más maravilloso regalo que el hombre haya recibido.

Como como en Cuba se celebraba Nochebuena, en lugar del día de la Navidad, la familia entera uníase, para celebrar este mayor importante evento del año: El nacimiento de nuestro Señor.

Esperando en la vigilia hasta la medianoche, todos gozaban de la tradicional cena, haciendo una gran fiesta en todos los hogares Cubanos.

La casa siendo decorada con el árbol de Navidad, y adornos pasados. Pero el punto de interés se centraba en la escena del nacimiento. Todas las familias trataban hacerla lo más realista posible, y algunos no solo tienen el establo y la santa familia, sino todo un pueblito alrededor tan bien.

A los niños se les permite quedarse hasta la medianoche para que gocen de esta reunión familiar, y a su vez muy jóvenes para asistir a la misa de gallo, se quedan en las casas oyendo como suenan las campanas de la iglesia, y en ese momento todos se arrodillan haciendo una oración en silencio, dando alegría a la ciudad entera, saber que Cristo ha nacido.

Como muestra religión, enseñan que Cristo nació en el silencio de la noche, y fue adorado por los pastores, los Cubanos asistimos a la misa de medianoche, la Misa de Gallo, para hacerle el regalo de nosotros mismos celebrando su nacimiento adorando como lo hicieron los pastores en la primera Nochebuena.

Terminadas sus palabras, la Sra. Rita Tomez obsequio a la concurrencia con un delicioso pan de pan con nueces, adornado con motivos Pascuales, que a todos deleitó.

Tips For Preventing Christmas Fires

GAINESVILLE — Yuletide fires from the careless use of decorations make the joyous Christmas season the most dangerous time of the year.

"Dry trees, combustible ornaments, and faulty electrical equipment are the chief hazards at Christmas time," says Pettis.

Here are seven suggestions from Pettis for enjoying a merry Christmas without mishaps:

Help keep the traditional evergreen fresh and green long by placing the base of the tree in a tree-stand that holds water or in a bucket of moist sand. Never set up a tree where it will block an escape route out of a building. Locate it in the coolest part of the room, away from heaters and hot air ducts, which will hasten drying.

Check lighting strings for frayed or broken wires, loose connections, and broken sockets. But never use lights on metal trees, because a frayed wire would make the tree a hazard and cause shocks.

Look for the Underwriter's Laboratories, Inc., (UL) label when buying new lights.

Don't overload electrical circuits. Use non-combustible ornaments made of glass or metal. Take the tree down as soon after Christmas as possible.

Peace on Earth

... to men of good will. Such is our earnest hope for Christmas, 1966!

The Farm Front

A recent announcement that the New Jersey Department of Agriculture was celebrating its 50th anniversary brought to mind that the Florida Department of Agriculture will be marking its 100th year in 1968.

It seems that there has always been agriculture in Florida. This phase of economic activity has been mentioned numerous times in even the earliest reports of historical Florida.

Federal and State documents relating to the legal background of the State take agriculture into consideration by various laws, rules and regulations.

However, the office of the Commissioner was not mentioned until the fourth Constitution of the State of Florida which was adopted in 1868. Then the title was Commissioner of Immigration.

Duties called for the Commissioner to organize a Bureau of Immigration for the purpose of furnishing information, and the encouragement of immigration. The office was set to expire at the end of 15 years, but the State Legislature had the power to continue it by law.

In 1871, that Constitution was amended, and the office of the Surveyor-General and Commissioner of Immigration were consolidated under the name of the Commissioner of Lands and Immigration.

A new Constitution was adopted by a convention held in Tallahassee in 1885, and it was ratified at the general election of 1886 and became effective January 1, 1887. The former Commissioner of Lands and Immigration was made Commissioner of Agriculture. He was also at that time given supervision of the State Prison.

When Nathan Mayo became Commissioner in 1923, he inherited many additional activities. Numerous other responsibilities were added to the Department from time to time. In 1937, the supervision of the State Prison was removed from the Department and placed in the newly created Division of Corrections.

During the same year, the Florida State Legislature made a study of the realignment of state governmental services to agriculture and drafted an agricultural reorganization act. The act became law in 1939 and effective January 15, 1941.

Today, the Florida Department of Agriculture is a highly efficient state agency which affords consumer and industry protection and is considered one of the top State Departments of Agriculture in the nation.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has reported that a recent U. S. food promotion in Paris, France, resulted in European trade contacts which should produce from $1.5 million to $2 million of export business for the United States.

Dr. Malcolm S. Van de Water, prominent radiologist at St. Mary's Hospital, West Palm Beach, past president of the Palm Beach County Unit of the American Cancer Society, has welcomed the arrival of the $75,000 Cobalt Machine at St. Mary's.

The Cobalt Machine, Dr. Van de Water said, is most valuable in treating deep-seated cancers. The machine is considered to be the latest in equipment in treating all types of cancers.

"This is a great step forward for Palm Beach County," Dr. Van de Water said. "The Cobalt Machine is invaluable to us here at the hospital and to all residents of the county. This is where part of the money is used that is raised by the Palm Beach County Unit of the American Cancer Society and the annual Palm Beach Cancer Benefit."

The county unit gave over $40,000 toward the machine and the benefit — which starred Jack Benney and Dinah Shore last year — contributed over $35,000," declared Dr. Van de Water, who is currently serving on the important executive committee of the Palm Beach County ACS.

Mrs. Gerhard Wagner was general chairman and Mrs. H. Tyson Lykes was executive chairman of the 1966 Cancer Benefit which raised over $105,000 total to help fight the dread disease of cancer.

Dr. Van de Water led the ACS to its most successful Cancer Crusade in history as the unit received contributions amounting to over $172,000 last April.

International Award Given Florida Film

WEST PALM BEACH — Florida's seascapes, those strange, cumbersome mammals famed for their weed eating abilities, and some large, tropical snails have won international honors along with Michelangelo and Leonardo da Vinci. In recent ceremonies in Washington, D. C., a film entitled "Marina and the Mermaid" or "Florida's War on Water Weeds" earned a Golden Eagle — considered the equivalent of the Oscar in non-theatrical circles. Representatives of MGM, Walt Disney, NBC, ABC, and the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District were on hand to pick up awards for a variety of documentary films. Singled out for excellence by the Council on International Non-Theatrical Events, the FCD film has already been seen on television throughout America by 40 million persons.

Stuart B. Melver of Jupiter, writer and director, and Ed Dail of West Palm Beach, executive director of the FCD, received awards in person at the National Education Association headquarters in the nation's Capital. Other award winners included NBC for a film "Michelangelo, the Last Giant" and ABC for "Leonardo da Vinci." Walt Disney Productions were honored for the documentary "Steel and America." MGM scored with "The Dot and the Line."

Melver, who is manager of Goodway Printing Company, Film Division, North Palm Beach, produced "Marina and the Mermaid" for the FCD early in 1966.

Copies of the 16 mm film, which runs 14 minutes in sound and color, are available for loan to civic clubs, schools, and government agencies free on request to the Flood Control District, P. O. Box 1671, West Palm Beach.

The snails and the seascapes are featured in sequences describing new efforts aimed at biological control of weeds in waterways. Present chemical and mechanical means of weed destruction employed by the FCD are also featured. It is pointed out that Florida's fresh water canals would soon be choked solid with weeds if left uncontrolled.

'Miss Sunflavor' To Be Chosen At State Fair

TALLAHASSEE — Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner announced today that the Sun 'n' Soil Beauty Pageant initiated this year at the Florida State Fair will now be known as the Miss Sunflavor Pageant.

This was disclosed following a meeting with Conner and Florida State Fair officials.

A permanent building — located at the Tampa fairgrounds for agricultural displays and exhibits — will continue to be known as The Sun 'n' Soil Building in recognition of Florida's vast agricultural industries.

Dates for the 1967 Fair are February 7 to 18. Contestants for the beauty pageant must previously have been selected as an agricultural commodity or fair queen from anywhere in Florida.

Winner of this year's pageant was Miss Suzanne Warner of St. Petersburg, 1965-66 Florida Poultry Queen.

Miss Warner will assist Commissioner Conner in crowning the new queen. She currently is a senior at the University of South Florida in Tampa where she is majoring in marketing.

Every organized agricultural commodity group and county fair is urged to sponsor a contestant in the 1967 pageant, Conner said.

"As Miss Sunflavor, the new queen will represent Florida's four billion-dollar agribusiness at conventions and conferences in the state as well as attend agricultural promotion activities out of the state."

Homemade Candles Give Off Honey Sweet Fragrance

Part of the fun — at least for grown-ups — of the holiday season is dreaming up the decorations that help bring about the traditional Christmas spirit in the home.

And, the fun isn't reserved for the ladies. Most men get just as big a kick as anyone else from decorating the tree, collecting holly mistletoe, pine cones and evergreen.

If Christmas is still a family activity at your house, several evenings can be built around planning and making the decorations.

John Haynie, apiculturist with the Agricultural Extension Service, says beautiful Christmas candles can be made from beeswax. And, the bonus is a honey-sweet fragrance set free in the room as the candles burn.

To make Christmas candles you will need sheets of beeswax foundation, a supply of heavy string or cord, saltwater solution, scissors, and a pan to melt small amounts of beeswax.

Put the heavy string in 17 or 18 inch lengths and soak for several hours in the saltwater solution. Let dry and dip the string "wicks" into melted wax. Allow the wicks to dry.

For a basic candle, place the wick along the lengthwise edge of the beeswax foundation, and wrap the edge of the foundation around the wick. Then roll the foundation tightly like a jellyroll. It will stick under slight pressure.

After a few minutes' practice on the basic candle you will be ready to try more complicated ones.

As a starter, try cutting the beeswax diagonally into two pieces. This will form two triangles. Place a wick as you did with the rectangular sheet along the edge and start rolling. As you roll, the diagonal edge will begin to form a spiral pattern around the finished candle.

Using the diagonal cut beeswax and a little imagination, you can make Christmas trees, Yule logs, and other candle designs.

Many types of decoration can be added to the candles. If you want to accentuate your spiral candle, try dipping the diagonal edge in melted crayon of a contrasting color.

Candles may be sprayed with paint or rolled in sparkle or sequins for additional decoration.

Teacher Turnover Is Small

WEST PALM BEACH — Classroom teacher turnover is relatively small in Palm Beach County, a report issued this week by Supr. Robert W. Fulton shows.

The report, prepared by the county school system's Personnel Department, shows that Palm Beach County's total instructional personnel, as of November 14, 1966, was 2617 and that 1189 of these had 10 years or more experience in the county school system.

Most surprising, for many, is the additional fact that 796 of the total instructional force, have had 13 or more years experience. In fact, this 13-years or better category, is by far the largest category in the report. Here is the breakdown: 207 (one year); 242 (2); 181 (3); 150 (4); 141 (5); 143 (6); 124 (7); 117 (8); 123 (9); 118 (10); 162 (11); 113 (12), and 796 teachers with 13 or more years of experience.

Gifts To Please - On A Budget

By Russell Kay

Christmas shopping has always irked me. I suppose it goes back to the Wise Men and their gifts at the manger but I certainly don't feel like a "wise man" while battling department store crowds, hastily viewing the various displays and fighting off eager clerks who are continuously asking, "Can I help you?"

I appreciate their solicitude but nobody can help me. I am jostled about in a daze. If I could just settle for frankincense and myrrh and be confident that relatives and friends would be pleased with such gifts it would be a lot easier.

But I know in my heart that my grandson would much rather have a tommy gun and his mother a bottle of Chanel No. 5, her husband a bottle of Five Star Hennessy.

But on my income, the number of such gifts I can buy at today's prices is limited. Of course, there are a variety of lesser gifts such as pen and pencil sets, neckties, paper weights, stuffed cats, monogrammed matches, and countless similar items but who wants to break a loved one's heart when they open such a gift wrapped item on Christmas morning?

Then I got to thinking about the gifts I had given in years gone by. What had happened to them. I looked about the house to find some of them

I found a manicure set tucked away in the wife's dresser drawer. If it had ever been used, nobody could remember when. Many of the items unused had found their way to "Goodwill" or the "Salvation Army" if not the ash can months ago.

In my bureau drawer I found seven sets of cuff links, three tie clasps, two imitation leather wallets and two pairs of heavy knit wool socks sent me by an old maid aunt in Duluth who had knitted them just for me.

Now I seldom wear a shirt that requires cuff links. I never wear a necktie unless I have to gain admittance to some swank establishment once or twice a year. I have been using the same wallet for 10 years or more and like it. I never found a pair of wool socks I could crowd into a pair of shoes with any degree of comfort and while I appreciate the thoughtfulness of those who have my welfare at heart, I retain these gifts leaving it to my heirs to dispose of when the time comes.

Then the holiday season, as it is gaily termed, has other demands that cause me annoyance, headaches and mental disturbance. It is the custom in our neighborhood to decorate our yard with festoons of light bulbs, sleighs, Santa Clauses, reindeers, imitation snow-holly wreaths, and everybody tries to out do his neighbor in presenting unique and colorful displays to the delight of the merchandisers and the electric company. At the risk of a sprained ankle or a broken shoulder I climb up on a shaky ladder and string lights from hell to breakfast, but somebody in the block with more money and sturdier nerves always makes me look like an amateur.

In my book Christmas is all right for kids but a big, fat pain in the neck for adults. Merry Christmas and all that jazz!

Holiday Calling To Be Heavy

Just ahead may be the biggest weekend ever for volume of long distance calls handled by operators of Southern Bell at Belle Glade. It's largely because the Christmas weekend will extend for three days for much of the public.

Southern Bell Manager at Belle Glade, Charles Leonard, said the public will start "holiday calling" on Saturday, the 24th, but Sunday, the 25th, will be the big day. Monday, the 26th, a holiday for many people, will also see heavy calling.

Biggest three-day period for long distance calls here previously was the weekend of Christmas 1965. Some 6700 calls were completed by operators over this weekend.

Long distance operators in many instances will give up holiday time so that others can get their long distance calls through. All available equipment will be utilized. "We'll be trying hard to get every call through without delay, of course, but with such heavy holiday calling on Christmas Day especially, there likely will be some delays, which we regret very much," Leonard said.

"The recent addition of Direct Distance Dialing facilities for this area should help considerably in speeding up the completion of these 'holiday' calls," states Leonard. He suggests that station to station calls be dialed direct for a faster service and so that operators will be freed to handle those calls requiring operator assistance, such as person-to-person, collect, and calls placed from coin telephones.

The New Year's Eve weekend likewise is expected to be heavy, but lighter than Christmas weekend.

Phone Rates Reduced

The Florida Public Service Commission has ordered Southern Bell to reduce their rates on telephone service throughout the territory served by them. This rate reduction amounts to $4,200,000.

The order of the Commission will lower rates primarily for residential users although some business firms will receive rate reductions.

Mr. Charles Leonard, Belle Glade manager, stated that Southern Bell has received the order from the Florida Public Service Commission and it reduces the monthly residential individual line rates of $4.00 by $.10, and residential two-party line service of $3.10 by $.12.

Residential extension telephone rates will be reduced from the present $1.25 to $1.10.

Subscribers affected by the reduction in rates under the Commission's order will receive these reductions on bills received after December 22, 1966.

Mr. Leonard stated that in the Belle Glade exchange the base rate areas would be extended reducing rates for approximately 275 subscribers.

Reductions for those people affected by this change will be shown on bills received after January 22.

Mr. Leonard further stated that the Commission's order required that Southern Bell make reductions in their method of measuring certain mileage charges for extension line business customers.

In addition, it reduces the charges for message waiting lamps for hotel and motel services. This reduction will be reflected in billing received after January 7.

FHP Predicts Deaths

TALLAHASSEE — Col. H. N. Kirkman, Director of the Department of Public Safety predicted today that motorists on Florida's Highways during the Christmas holidays will kill themselves at the rate of one every three hours.

Basing his prediction on a three year average killed during the Christmas holidays, Col. Kirkman said that 28 persons will lose their lives in the expected heavy traffic of the long 78-hour Yuletide period. A total of 50 have died in highway wrecks during the Christmas holidays from 1963 through 1965.

The 1966 holiday weekend begins at 6 P. M. Friday, December 23 and ends midnight Monday, December 26.

Kirkman listed four major seasonal killers of many holiday motorists as: unusually heavy traffic, drinking, fatigue and inattention while driving. "Keep these potential killers in mind as you drive during the holidays," appealed Col. Kirkman, "as nothing can spoil the holiday spirit of love and good cheer as fast and completely as an accidental death of a loved one."

The University of Miami's Ring Theater in Coral Gables is one of the most flexible experimental theater buildings in the U. S.

Just want to say, folks, it's that time of year

For greeting good friends and wishing them cheer.

May your holiday season be merry and bright

May your fondest plans turn out just right!

Yes, here's to the season of carols and holly

Here's to a Yuletide that's prosperous and jolly!

Dr. Clement Moore Was Ashamed Of His Famous Poem

Dr. Clement Clarke Moore was ashamed of his famous poem, "Night Before Christmas," and would not acknowledge that he wrote it for more than 20 years.

Today, the poem which begins — "Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse" — is one of the most beloved of all Christmas writings.

Dr. Moore was an able professor of Greek and oriental literature in the Episcopal Seminary in New York. He wrote the poem on Christmas Eve 1822 and read it to his seven children.

He had not planned for the poem to go further than his own family, but a relative who was visiting the Moores put a copy in her diary. The next year the relative's father sent it to a newspaper.

Other newspapers printed the jingles and they quickly became known all over the country. The dignified Dr. Moore was embarrassed and considered it beneath a man of his scholastic standing to be the author of children's jingles.

Twenty-two years later, however, he finally publicly admitted authorship of the jingles and it was published in book form under his name for the first time.

CHRISTMAS TODAY IS TOO COMMERCIAL, MANY PEOPLE BELIEVE

Today we hear many people say that Christmas has been "commercialized" and has lost its true meaning.

Is it worth this one time in the year to make the dominate theme one of giving, rather than receiving?

Giving has always been a major part of the Christmas theme — the giving of joy and happiness to others whether it be spiritual or material.

It is true that economically no other holiday or festive season contributes so much to the welfare of the world. The holiday has hardly passed into the new year before thousands are at work on toys and Christmas specialties for the next year.

Giving will remain one of the great joys of Christmas for all time to come. The idea has survived through the centuries and nothing will ever stop it.

What, after all, brings more joy than watching children and loved ones open gifts and express their thanks in words and deeds?

It is, essentially, the Christmas story.

Birth Of The Saviour Was Greatest Event In World's History

Says Ewe

Vicky B. I hear you had a little something extra in your dessert at the Home Ec. luncheon. Can you explain how it got there?

I hear to earn money, some of the senior boys are going to pick beans on Sundays. Is this so?

I heard that the Home Ec. luncheon was enjoyed by all. The fourth period Food and Nutrition class did a very good job. Congratulations

A certain someone finally showed up Tuesday night, right Kathy? Why was he five hours late?

It is good to see all the alumni home for the holidays. Karen Harris, Cynthia Nutt, Riley Foster, Jane Wierweng, Cary Wall, and Gary Walker are just a few. Welcome back!

Diane Shiver, you are in a great demand for singing solos lately! But I understand your specialties are church hymns — how about this?

Gail S. why were you so nervous the other night? Could it have been because of the phone call?

Susie S. what happened with your new boy friend in West Palm Beach, on December 11? Let's hear some more about this.

Susan Burns, I hear you fainted the other day. I never realized Chris Robinson was THAT good looking.

Some of the Glee Club members had dates in West Palm Beach December 16. Tell us about it, Jorgi C.

Gloria C. I hear you don't like "Monkey" any more. Now it's "Santa Claus." Just who is he?

Dick H. why did you almost fall asleep in the dress shop? Were you that bored?

Pleasant as it is to dream of a "White Christmas" with its carols and gifts, feasting and merry-making, the sparkling eyes of children delighting in Santa Claus and the wonderful Christmas trees, these things never can symbolize the tremendous significance of the day.

The birth of the Saviour was the greatest event in the history of the world. In spite of all the back-slidings, Christians peoples have pressed forward steadily.

However vicious and corrupt, the world today is far better than the world of ages past, familiarity with the cross and crucifixion has abolished legal tortures and much cruelty — and, if given a chance, might shame us into abolishing the curse of international viciousness for the sake of Him who became the Saviour of Mankind.

Teacher Of The Week: Mr. Whitehead

Mr. Whitehead is recognized as an outstanding teacher because of his compatibility among the students. His work comes easy because he enjoys his students and is interested in every aspect of their school work.

Mr. Whitehead sponsored the FTA club last year but couldn't this year because of other obligations. This year he is participating in an Experimental Math program at John I. Leonard. This program is financed through Title Three of the Educational Bill by the federal government. He spends his extra time on the golf course or either practicing for the JC football games. Mr. Whitehead is presently teaching one class of advanced math, general math, and also algebra. He now lives directly across the street from the school which is very convenient for him.

Mr. Ronald Whitehead came to Belle Glade in 1965 from Shannon, Mississippi. He attended Shannon High and later graduated from Itawamba Junior College. After finishing his last two years at Mississippi State, he received his B. S. degrees and two years later, his Masters. He taught in Shannon before coming to Belle Glade.

Christmas Tournaments

December 29th and 30th will be days of excitement for B. G. H. Belle Glade will be the host for Pahokey, Okeechobee and Sebring while participating in the tournaments held in the B. G. gym.

Belle Glade will play Thursday the 29th at 8:30 p.m. The pairing off of the teams has not been decided. At 7:00 p.m. on the 30th there will be a consolation game and at 8:30 p.m. the championship game will be played.

Juniors Take DAT Tests

The Juniors are awaiting the results of the Differential Aptitude Tests (DAT). To see which areas of work they are best suited.

The DAT was administered last Wednesday and Thursday. The fields covered were verbal, mechanical and abstract reasoning, numerical ability, clerical speed and accuracy, space relations, and language usage.

The students who did well in verbal reasoning and numerical ability are the ones who will probably do well in college.

F.H.A. Sponsors Bake Sale

To earn money to give a Christmas party for the children at the Osceola Center, the F. H. A. Club had bake sale on two successive Saturdays.

One was held in front of the Belle Glade Kwik Check. The other was at Willis in South Bay.

Cakes, cookies, and candies were provided by the fourth period Food and Nutrition Class and by the F. H. A. members.

Melissa Hill, Aggie Gressinger and Sharon Walls, working at Kwik Check, earned $30.00 for their club. Diane Shiver, Barbara Warren and Doris Willis, working in South Bay, also earned money for the Christmas party.

Students Challenged

The football team is challenging all other clubs to better their grade averages this next six weeks and on through the school year. A trophy will be presented to the club with the highest percentage of improvement at the end of this year. After a club has had the highest percentage for four consecutive six weeks periods it gets to keep the award.

Every club is urged to compete. Any student who does not belong to a club is urged to sign up in the office to form a separate organization which will compete.

Having the highest percentage will also add the club toward the Club of the Year Award.

Christmas comes but once a year. And when it comes it brings good cheer. The reason that it brings good cheer is that it comes but once a year.

Suppose it happened once a week. I'd be too tired to write or speak. But struggling with it one time yearly I've still got strength to say sincerely —

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Children Visit Science Museum

Wednesday, Dec. 14 thirty-eight first and second graders of the Lake Harbor School enjoyed a trip to the Science Museum, West Palm Beach. Following a delightful trip to the zoo, the boys and girls were fascinated by the bees, the mice, the boa constrictor, the humming birds, and particularly the horse skeleton. Then on top of these wonders, they were enthralled by the beauties of the Planetarium where the director opened vistas of delight to them by naming stars, by pointing out constellations and by showing them the sun and moon. After a hasty lunch in the park, the boys and girls arrived back at school on time, thanks to the expert driving of Mrs. Walls.

We wish for you a striped candy cane,
The scent of pine, a fire's glow,
Presents to open, snow on the pane,
Peace... and a glimpse of the Star.

THE CHRISTMAS OF CHRIST

By Miriam L. Dulany

When God sent His only begotten Son into the world that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life, (John 3:16). He did not make a new creation in Christ, but projected Him out of timeless eternity into the stream of time men, that He might accomplish their salvation. That is why John introduces his Gospel with the words, "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God," and why the Apostle Paul speaks of Jesus Christ, "the same yesterday, today and forever."

Whatever is of Christ is everlasting! That is why we can speak of Christmas in its true sense, of "yesterday, today, and forever." Frequently you hear a sermon topic or expression, "The Christ of Christmas," but let us now dwell on "The Christmas of Christ."

No occasion has united mankind as completely as the Christmas of Christ. Christmas Day is the grand pause, in our program of life, for the observance of the festival of the birth of the Christ Child. It is the Holy Season of unselfishness wherever the name of Jesus Christ is rightly proclaimed. "For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given, and the government shall be upon his shoulder, and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The Mighty God, the Everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace." Isaiah 9:6.

The wonderful Christmas of Christ is the season when we are reminded again and again of that "Amazing Grace," of that "Love Divine, all loves exceeding," when we celebrate the great Incarnation — the union of Divinity with humanity in Christ, God's "unspokeable gift" to mankind. II Cor. 9:15.

There is always the Christmas denial of Christ by some in the frequent debasement attendant upon the observance of Christmas. For others, Christmas is primarily an excuse for a carnival of maudlin parties and reveling. For many, Christmas is apparently a time of feverish activity in which self seems to have been substituted for Christ, resulting in a worldliness that accepts Christmas as an indulgence but does not really acknowledge the Christ who gave us Christmas.

Christmas is, however, to multitudes, a season to openly express love and adoration for Christ. A time to earnestly praise and thank God for His "unspokeable gift" to mankind, and a very special occasion for sharing love and gifts with others, especially the less fortunate.

I like the expression of the Christmas hymn that invites us to "Come let us adore Him, O come let us adore Him, Christ the Lord!" The angels of heaven adored Christ, the Wise Men and the Shepherds adored Him, Mary and Joseph adored Him. In adoration and worship of Christ there is to be an abandonment of passion and love — there should be disengagement of measurement, a throwing away of the scales, and a wholesale destruction of tape-lines. Adoration is the expression of the soul's love for Christ!

Adoration and worship of Christ generates divine vitality that everywhere produces and restores life. The worship of God gives beauty to everything. It did with the mother of Jesus. It lit up the stable on that first Christmas, and made it the most renowned piece of architecture in the world's history. It was the indescribable beauty in the father's face, denoting completeness of surrender to the Child's good. It gave divine exaltation to the Wise Men.

Thus, let us purpose in our hearts that we will rightly observe the "Christmas of Christ" this holy season, rejoicing that the priceless, tremendous, love and mercy of God is available in limitless amounts to all who will in persistence, believing faith come to God through Christ — The Christ of Christmas — The Christ of Bethlehem — The Christ of the Cross. "O Come let us adore Him, Christ the Lord!"

... 5 Killed

SOUTH BAY — Five South Bay area residents were killed in a tragic truck-car collision Friday afternoon, December 17, on Highway U.S. 27 south of South Bay.

The accident occurred when the victim's car swerved off the road in an effort to avoid an oncoming car that was passing a truck driven by James Henderson of Tampa, and a third car driven by W. Jones. According to Jones, the victim's car slid trying to get back on the highway and crashed head-on into a truck.

The victims were identified as Mrs. Dora Shortnacy Sellers, 48, and her daughter Kathy Marie Sellers, 12, Mrs. Margie Ingles Clark, 32, her daughters, Mary Gale Beavers, 12, and Rhonda Kathy Beavers, 5. All were living at Henderson's Trailer Park, South Bay. The two older girls were students at Belle Glade Jr. High School.

Williams Funeral Home, Belle Glade was in charge of local arrangements for Mrs. Sellers and her daughter. Funeral services and burial will be held in Winona, Miss., for the Sellers.

Paterson's Funeral Home in Clewiston was in charge of the arrangements for Mrs. Clark and her daughters. Burial services were held Monday, December 19 in Clewiston.

... Rescue

SOUTH BAY — Clifford Story, 19, of Clewiston rescued Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Napier, 556 S. W. 6th Street, Belle Glade, from drowning in the North New River Canal, Friday, just south of South Bay.

Napier, employed by Davis Car Sales, State Road, 715, Belle Glade, was driving one car and towing another with his wife following in a third vehicle when he looked out the rear window and saw the auto his wife was driving disappear from sight in the canal. The vehicle which Mrs. Napier, 30, was driving plunged into the canal when the right front wheel dropped off and she lost control of the auto.

Napier said he jumped into the canal and swam toward his panic-stricken wife, who had managed to escape from the auto, that was upside down in about 35 feet of water.

Story who was riding in a south bound truck with David Minney of Clewiston saw the accident and went into the canal rescuing the exhausted husband and wife. Minney assisted Story in the rescue.

Florida Highway Patrol Trooper Art Larsen was in the edge of the water when Story brought the couple ashore. Trooper H. E. Martindale assisted in the investigation.

Both Napiers were treated and released at Glades General Hospital.

... Explosion

SOUTH BAY — Police Chief D. Ray Pugh has announced that an "accumulation of vapor" was the cause of the explosion that destroyed the four-apartment building on Joe Louis Ave., South Bay, Sunday, December 11.

Fulton Honored

Superintendent Robert W. Fulton has been unanimously commended by the executive board of the Palm Beach County Council Parent-Teacher Associations for his "outstanding accomplishments as Superintendent of the Palm Beach County school system."

The Superintendent who will begin his third year in office next month, was notified of this action by the County Council P. T. A.'s president Leo B. Schwack.

In his letter to the Superintendent, Mr. Schwack said: "It is apparent that fine improvements and advances are emerging daily in our school administration and we feel that these advances result from careful planning and administration on the part of yourself and the team of capable people you have surrounded yourself with."

During the past two years Mr. Fulton has reorganized the county schools' instructional department, pushed forward the urgently needed school building program, and administered without major problem or notable incident the orderly change from a dual to an unitary school system as required by the 1964 Act of Congress.

By Rex Newman
All Florida News
TALLAHASSEE (AFN)—Florida has the best chance in recent times to have a constitution which has some rapport with the last half of the 20th Century.

What the convention gives the 1967 session of the legislature is far from perfect, but at least it is an improvement over what now is on paper as the guiding document for Florida government.

One of the advantages which the final product will have to be accepted by the people is the fact it will have been well publicized.

Gov. Haydon Burns appointed a fine chairman in Chesterfield Smith, Bartow law partner of U. S. Sen. Spessard Holland. He organized the commission rapidly and effectively.

Two drafts of the constitution received wide publicity throughout the state and the three week convention in turn received wide publicity.

The third draft represented careful screening three times at this point.

Now the legislature in 1967 will devote a special session to the document; more publicity and more involvement by more of the state's citizenry.

On top of that such legislative leaders as Sen. Jack Matthews, House Speaker Ralph Turlington, Sen. Reubin Askew and Sens. John McCarty and Beth Johnson were involved in the commission's product.

Not only that but the legislative minority leadership, Rep. Don Reed and Sen. Bill Young were involved in the commission product.

In a legislature which will be new and inexperienced because of reappointment of the legislative leadership which help draft the commission document will be in a position to carry great weight.

In addition, such subjects as redistribution of the secondary gasoline tax is close to the hearts of the urban legislators and their constituency.

The constitution convention product probably is more a reflection of efforts and ideas of Sen. Matthews, Jacksonville, Leon County Circuit Court Judge Hugh Taylor and Chairman Smith than any other of the 37 member body.

Smith made his presence felt not from the rostrum, but from internal workings. Judge Taylor was instrumental in drafting and Matthews was the constitutional expert most frequently turned to by the membership.

Wilderness Campsite Given To Boy Scouts

CALL TO COLORS — Dan H. Wheatcroft, Jr., a member of Boy Scout Troop 215, sponsored by Palmetto Junior High School, P. T. A., sounds a "call to colors" during the dedication ceremony of the new Boy Scout Camp at Turkey Point. The five-acre campsite is located within the 1,500-acre wildlife refuge adjoining Florida Power & Light Company's new plant. The wilderness campsite, donated by FPL, was an early Christmas gift for the Boy Scouts.

Boy Scouts have received a five-acre campsite, nestled in unspoiled South Florida wilderness, as an early Christmas gift from Florida Power & Light Company. McGregor Smith, FPL's Board Chairman, turned over the campsite, located within the 1,500-acre wildlife refuge adjoining the new Turkey Point power plant, to the South Florida Council of the Boy Scouts.

Located some 25 miles south of Miami, the Turkey Point camp's facilities include a swimming area, three miles of natural creeks and four and one-half miles of man-made canals for canoe trips, miles of hiking trails, nature trails, and a council picnic area, and enough camp space for 150 Scouts.

The value of Turkey Point, underlined by Dan Wheatcroft, Scout Executive, is that the area offers opportunity for nature study not found elsewhere in Dade County. "We hope to have at least 60 to 100 Scouts camping here each weekend during the coming year. On special occasions, such as a holiday weekend, we hope to bring even more Scouts to the new campsite," he added.
